All,

I am writing to share that we have one new case today and contact tracing is complete.

As we prepare for the winter holiday break it will be important for you and students to reach out to classroom teachers with questions about student progress, missed work or any clarifying need. Teachers will be available through Wednesday mid day via email.

We continue to appreciate open-lines of communication with school nurses, building administrators and classroom teachers. No question is too small or unimportant as communication with classroom teachers will always be the cornerstone of your student's success in the Dudley-Charlton RSD. These have been trying times and we need to collectively stay focused and safe.

Respectfully,

Steven M. Lamarche

Superintendent of Schools
